

Sharone is a co-owner and operates Carmel Blue, a “one stop shop for pregnancy and parenting product and classes” in North Beach. She lives and is raising her son in North Beach, where she organized neighborhood music groups, to the on-going support before and after birth that she supplies to parents as part of her work as a Birthing Coach and Yoga professional. Prior to diving into mommyhood, Sharone worked as a member of the Design and Product development teams at Levi Strauss & Co and at Pottery Barn, as well as running her own business in Costume and Jewelry. The 15 years spent working with product design and development, have earned her vast knowledge and appreciation of product quality, design and function and a deep awareness of the customer
